CITY OF KAŞ, TÜRKİYE

2024 CMAS World Cup Freediving Depth Series- KAŞ
Will be held in Kaş, Türkiye from 17-20 September 2024

The city of Kaş can be reached by flights (regular and charter) from many European cities. Nearest airport is Dalaman Int Airport (DLM). Shuttle flights are also available from Dalaman Int Airport as are regular buses connecting Dalaman to Kaş.

Kaş is a touristic district of Antalya on the Mediterranean coast. It is located at the westernmost tip of Antalya, between Fethiye and Demre, with a coastline of 70 km. It is 190 km from Antalya, 100 km from Fethiye and only 1.8 km from the Greek island of Meis, which is just across the sea.

The Teke Peninsula, located between the gulfs of Antalya and Fethiye, was called Lycia in ancient times. Kaş was founded on the southernmost part of this region, on the ancient port city of Antiphellos. Lycian civilization was scattered all over the peninsula with its structure consisting of many cities. Kaş is located in the middle of the Teke Peninsula, surrounded by Lycian ruins.

One that has stuck and perhaps the one that suits it best is Land of light. Its natural beauty together with the peaceful energy that permeates your being as you spend time here illuminates the truth of its title.

In the Christ IV the century Antiphellos was a small settlement, the harbor for Phellos which stood further into the mountains. In fact as it entered the Hellenistic period. The significance of Phellos weighed as Antiphellos came to the fore and this trend continued during the Roman period. Trade that consisted predominantly of Cedar wood felled in the surrounding forests as well as sponge meant that It assumed a new significance, no longer just the port of Phellos it grew into an independent and wealthy city in its own right. Drawing people with its historical treasures, blue skies and turquoise seas, Kaş has become a center for tourists who seek outdoor activities and culture.
